

HOMECOMING PREVIEW

By: Amy Truong
Reporter

The first month of homework, quizzes, and tests are finally over, and November is on its way, which means Homecoming is near. Homecoming is a chance to take a break from all the stress and just have a good time with friends.

After the amazing homecoming masquerade dance last year, students are excited for this year's homecoming. In the past, some themes for homecoming were Halloween related and "Dance the Night Away", held at locations like the Discovery Science Center or the Yorba Linda Community Center. However, this year will be something completely different. On Saturday, November 3rd 2012, Valencia High School's homecoming dance will take place at Marconi's Auto Museum in Tustin.

Jamie Jauch, the ASB director, stated, "this year will be Hollywood-themed. It will be more like the "old, glamorous" Hollywood, not the "Kim Kardashian" Hollywood today. In other words, the theme is aimed for students to dress together to the dance after dinner. At the museum, there will be a red carpet entrance for students to walk through to give them a Hollywood-like atmosphere. Inside, students will be able to

DJ because he has been to other high school dances in Yorba Linda, and their students have mentioned that he adds a "spice" to the dances creating excitement. Students are already starting to ask their dates out in all many kinds of ways. Many made posters and brought balloons, while others put notes and gifts in all of their date's classes. Some students were bold enough to ask and make a big scene in front of a crowd. Students are popping the question in more creative ways. ASB has even made a contest to give students a chance to win two free homecoming tickets for the most creative homecoming proposal. All students have to do is take a video of themselves asking their date to homecoming, and post it on the Valencia ASB facebook page. The video that stands out as being the most unique will be the winner. Tickets for homecoming are on sale now starting at $45 with ASB and $55 without, so buy your tickets before prices go up. With all this information in mind, this year's homecoming sounds like it will be a day to remember.

PHOTO COURTESY OF CHSNEWS.WORDPRESS.COM

classy. ASB members will be organizing and preparing for the majority of the dance with the help of caterers and other outside assistance in order to make the environment as magical and entertaining as it can be. Students can take pictures with their friends at school, and go to-walk around and look at the variety of vintage cars the museum has to offer. From photo booths to deserts and a chocolate fountain, students can expect to have a fun time. Also, a new DJ from SOS entertainment will be taking care of the music selection. Students can look forward to this year's homecoming sounds like it will be a day to remember.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

By Brianna Munoz and Alpha Gallegos
Editor and Photographer

Are you unsure of how to complete your community service hours this year? There are plenty of opportunities to get your community work done, many of which are even on campus. Here are some opportunities open to all students. The Red Cross center is open for volunteer services, offering interviews that lead to as much as six hours of work in one session. For more information, you can call (562) 597-

6341. Also, Ms. Krause is looking for students available afterschool on Fridays to help with her paperwork. For more information, you can go to her room 1108 or email her at hkrause@pylusd.org. You can also volunteer at the Registrar of Voters to work the November 6, 2012 General Election. Students can gain valuable experience in the American electoral process at this event. If you are interested, you can apply online at ocvote.

PHOTO COURTESY OF BLOGS.GLOBEUNIVERSITY.EDU

com/volunteer or talk to Ms. Watkins in room 622 for more information.

Also, the Harvest Club is looking for volunteers to help provide fresh, healthy food to the hungry in Orange County. Go online to www.theharvest-club.org to register as a volunteer. Also, Children's Hospital of Orange County (CHOC) is looking for some help in their volunteer team, which provides much needed assistance to nurturing the patients at the hospital. Students can also get involved with campaign work at the Fullerton Office for the House of Representatives candidate, Jay Chen. Chen is looking for volunteers, offering internships to work on his campaign.

For more information, you can email hymas@chenforcongress.com or call (714) 357-2395. You can also complete community service at the Rose Drive Festival which will be held on October 26. For more information you can call (714) 357-2395. Also, volunteers are needed at HIS House as regular child care assistants every Tuesday of each month this year. If you are interested, talk to Ms. Watkins in room 622.

POWER 106

By Kaitlyn Eyles
Reporter

The Power 106 radio station made its debut on Monday, September 17th and featured hip-hop music presented by their DJs. The radio station is famous for playing hip hop and remix type music on their station. However, the radio station didn't just come to blast music, no the power 106 all stars played against our staff basketball team on September 27th. The proceeds collected for tickets for the game all went to Valencia High School.

The lunch time pep rally on September 17th got many students hyped for the basket ball game and gave students some lunch time entertainment. The radio stations black van and representatives spun some great hip hop tunes to show case just some of what will be playing on September 27th, the big basketball game. Valencia's teachers were psyched to play against an all-star team at the opening of the school year. On Thursday, September 27th students came to rally on there home team and meet power 106 representatives. Throughout the game the representatives were most of the crowd's main focus, giving away various items. The big ticket item most students wanted was the skateboard. Other than the skateboard, students were constantly appealing to the representatives by shouting for there attention to win items ranging from folders all the way to tee shirts. However, winning freebies was not the only highlight of the evening. During the half time performance many performers made an excellent debut. Those who performed during the game were Shy Town's Finest Breakers, the 4

Count Band, Far East Movement, and John Hart. Many students were able to be fairly close to many of the performers and some even got to take pictures with them. For instance, one of members of the 4 Count posed with students during their own performance. Though this is not another addition to our many wins, the night was very eventful. Overall, many of the students who had attended the game experienced a great night and great music.

PHOTO COURTESY OF POWER106.COM